2021 ATI ANNUAL CONFERENCE

We're All In This Together

Saturday/Sunday, September 25-26, 2021

Hours 8:00 a.m. to 3:45 p.m.

Online Virtual Platform

On behalf of the Arizona Translators and Interpreters, Inc., we invite you to join us in presenting to the community a two-day conference with the theme “We’re All In This Together”, to be held as a virtual conference. The conference will feature informative workshops geared toward translators, interpreters, and the organizations that work with them in government, legal, healthcare, call-centers, financial institutes and general business to business. We’ll address different approaches to fostering and promoting excellence through effective communication in Arizona’s diverse communities.

This year’s Arizona Translators & Interpreters (ATI) Annual Conference will be held over the course of two (2) days online using the virtual platform Whova.com. Attendees can interact with sponsors, review information and follow links to your company.

Attendees are expected to include members of the Arizona community, translators, interpreters, educators, trainers, language coaches, language service providers, public service agencies, government agencies, managers of hospital interpreter and translation services, health insurance organizations, court and legal services, call-centers, business operations, advocacy groups and other stakeholders. Additionally, because of the virtual platform and the impressive lineup of speakers, we also expect attendees from other states as well!

We look forward to working with you over the next few weeks leading up to September 25 in order to make this year’s conference a rewarding experience for you and your organization. Please take some time to look over the following Sponsor Package, and if you have any questions or comments, please do not hesitate to contact Fran Samuel, by email at francesca@atiinc.org or Jennifer Baldwin at president@atiinc.org.

To secure space at the conference and to make sure your organization is listed in the Whova platform, we urge you to contact us right away. If you are able to participate, there are several virtual opportunities available to bring your organization, programs and services to the attention of the language professionals who attend.

Please contact us if you’d like more information.

Regards,

2021 ATI Conference Team

Jennifer Baldwin, ATI President

Francesca Samuel, Vice President and 2021 Conference Organizer
